Presents:

Intensifying Classroom Routines in Elementary Literacy Programs

with

Dr. Michael Ford

at 8:30 a.m. in the

University Center, UW Whitewater

Sponsored by: WSRA

Dr. Michael Ford: a professor emeritus from the UW-Oshkosh, served as chair of the Department of Literacy and Language and a Professor in the teacher education program for 29 years.

Topic summary: Have your class routines become a bit routinized? In this presentation, we will look at how to get more mileage out of typical class routines, such as morning messages, word walls, and shared readings in elementary literacy programs. Based on Dr. Ford's new book, Intensifying Classroom Routines in Reading and Writing Programs, let's intensify our large group activities to maximize their power and reach more readers and writers. With intensified routines in place, students will clearly see connections between reading and writing. We may even sing a song or two!
