Dave Stuart, Jr.: Foundations Framework for Literacy Workshop

1 Graduate Credit through Carthage College
Contact Sharon Tilton at stilton44@yahoo.com

DATES:

11/3/17 ~ Wausau

11/4/17 ~ Madison

TIME:

7:30 AM Check-in

8:00-3:30 Institute

LOCATION:

Nov. 3 at the Grand Lodge Waterpark Resort

Nov. 4 at the Holiday Inn Madison at the American Center

INTENDED AUDIENCE:

Reading Teachers, Reading Specialists, Special Education Teachers, ELL Teachers, Administrators, and Classroom Teachers will benefit from this institute.

There is a lot of clutter in the PD market when it comes to disciplinary literacy instruction, with most approaches emphasizing every standard as equal. The Non-Freaked Out Approach holds no such presumptions, instead choosing to cut through the clutter by doggedly pursuing and dominating the core of competent, high-powered literacy instruction. Because of this, Dave's workshop gives teachers across the content areas a rare, liberating, empowering permission: to build expertise with six high-impact, big-bang-for-your-buck instructional habits.

Teachers will have opportunity to apply what they learn from the Dave's keynote as they separate into specific disciplinary literacy teams.

PARTICIPANTS WILL:

- Learn how to infuse Disciplinary Literacy into all content areas
- Participate in content area break-out sessions
- Apply new learning immediately with support from Dave Stuart and the Middle and High School Literacy members

Dave Stuart is a husband and dad who serves as a high school teacher at Cedar Springs High School. Stuart is animated by the simple belief that all students and teachers should flourish. Stuart's articles written, lessons taught, and books read are driven by the certainty that his belief can, and must, happen. Stuart shares his work through his popular email newsletter at www.davestuartjr.com. Stuart writes about literacy instruction, character strengths, and the inner work of teaching. Stuart has published A Non-Freaked Out Guide to Teaching the Common Core as well as multiple digital resources. Stuart seeks to share the things that most help him as a teacher.
