

M A R C

Madison Area Reading Council

Affiliated with the Wisconsin State Reading Association (WSRA) and the International Reading Association (IRA), this council is composed of teachers, librarians, administrators, education students, researchers, professors, reading specialists, and others who are interested in promoting life-long literacy, literacy learning across all content areas, and the improvement of reading and writing instruction.

The council provides opportunities for people to discuss reading issues, keep current on reading research and strategies, foster mutual understanding and cooperative work among reading professionals, and promote the enjoyment of reading.

Madison Area Reading Council meets four times a year. Each meeting features a well-known speaker. Members receive four newsletters per year.
